JUSTIFIED ANGER
courses
Knowledge that Transfroms Communities

BLACK HISTORY FOR A NEW DAY

LOOKING BACK TOGETHER
SO THAT WE DARE TO
DREAM OF A FUTURE TOGETHER

Our purpose is to understand how the African American experience has shaped the world we all live in, and how allies can find roles supporting racial justice today. Rooting ourselves in our history, and understanding how we got here, will help us move forward together to make a better world and a stronger local community.

"Education as the practice of freedom."
- Bell Hooks

Course Features

Academic Expertise
In partnership with the University of Wisconsin African American History Department, the course is grounded in scholarly research by the professors that teach the lectures.

Experiential Knowledge
The course emphasizes a historical and contemporary lived experience to provide a grounded understanding.

Community Transformation
Created to transform a community with one of the largest racial disparities in the country, the course has fueled a movement of systemic change that has spread through the business, education, health, and faith sectors.

Action for a New Day
Stories and practical examples from everyday life invigorate the historical knowledge. The course inspires hope, allowing every person to play a part in the change.

A Learning Experience

- 9 Week Course, Includes Lecture and Group Discussion
- Individual or Group Options
- Virtual or In-Person
- Bonus 3 Week Next Steps Sessions

Course Sessions Starting Sept and Feb

justifiedanger.com
justifiedanger@nehemiah.org